“Celebrate Rotary”

The Object of Rotary is to encourage and foster the ideal of service as a basis of worthy enterprise and, in particular, to encourage and foster:

FIRST. The development of acquaintance as an opportunity for service;

SECOND. High ethical standards in business and professions, the recognition of the worthiness of all useful occupations, and the dignifying of each Rotarian’s occupation as an opportunity to serve society;

THIRD. The application of the ideal of service in each Rotarian’s personal, business, and community life;

FOURTH. The advancement of international understanding, goodwill, and peace through a world fellowship of business and professional persons united in the ideal of service.

OUR OPENING SONG
*I want to wake up in the morning
 Where the orange blossoms grow,
 And the sun comes peeping
 Into where I'm sleeping
 And the song birds say hello.
 I want to wander in the orange grove
 As I used to long ago,
 And go drifting back to Florida
 Where the orange blossoms grow...*

This week's program

Father Drew Wales
Tanzania Project

Our speaker for August 11, 2009 was Jim Drake, President of Brevard Community College. Jim provided a brief history of the college and discussed a wide variety of subjects ranging from Online classrooms to future challenges facing BCC.

Here are a few fact about Jim that you might not know. Drake. March 2007, James A. Drake was named President of Brevard Community College (BCC) a comprehensive public college with full-service campuses in Palm Bay, Melbourne, Cocoa, and Titusville, Florida. With average annual enrollments of 27,000 students, Brevard Community College remains one of the top 100 community colleges in the U.S. Prior to his appointment at BCC, Drake served as Associate Vice President for Academic Affairs and Director of the University of Central Florida Southern Region campuses, in partnership with Brevard Community College.

Drake is the author of seven books and more than fifty articles. Two of his biographies, Ponselle: A Singer's Life (Doubleday & Company), and Richard Tucker: A Biography (E. P. Dutton Company), with forewords by tenor Luciano Pavarotti, were selected as "Books of the Month" by the National Book Clubs of America. Some fifteen years after Ponselle: A Singer's Life was published, Drake returned to his first subject in his much acclaimed Rosa Ponselle: A Centenary Biography (Amadeus Press), in which he employed a post-modern format to present and analyze conflicting accounts of the legendary American soprano's life and career. His other books include Teaching Critical Thinking (1976), a textbook stemming from his doctoral research at Ohio State; Popular Culture and American Life (with Martin W. Laforse, 1980); and "Lily Pons: A Centennial Portrait" (with Kristen B. Ludecke, 1999). Drake also co-authored a centennial history of Cocoa, Florida (Cocoa: A Living History, 1995) for which he and his research collaborator, Joseph R. Moss, received an award from the Florida Historical Society.

Drake was also selected as a contributing author to American National Biography, the 24-volume series published by the Oxford University Press in 1999. He also served on the editorial board of The Opera Quarterly, a vocal-music journal published by the Oxford University Press, and formerly by the Duke University Press. His expertise in 19th and 20th century operatic performances led to his serving as a co-host of the radio series "Voices That Live," created by producer-announcer Don Martin (Martin Jager) and originating from the CBS Radio affiliate in Ithaca, N.Y. When the series was revived and syndicated in the late 1980s, Drake and his co-host, broadcaster Charles Koelsch in Greenville, S.C., received the Certificate in Arts and Culture award from the International Radio Festival Association in New York.
